

Communication Sciences and Disorders, M.S.

---

The Master of Science in Communication Sciences and Disorders requires a minimum of 375 clock hours of clinical practice, 325 of which must be on the graduate level, and 25 hours of guided clinical observation are required. Prior to graduation, the student must show evidence of a passing score on the national Praxis examination in Speech-Language Pathology.

| Code                               | Title                                                    | SemesterCreditHours |
|------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Required Coursework         |                                                          |                             |
| CSDO 5301                          | Res in Comm Sci and Disorders                            | 3                           |
| CSDO 5303                          | Motor Speech Disorders                                   | 3                           |
| CSDO 5304                          | Voice Disorders                                          | 3                           |
| CSDO 5307                          | Diagnostics                                              | 3                           |
| CSDO 5308                          | Neurogenic Lang & Cognitive                              | 3                           |
| CSDO 5309                          | Fluency Disorders                                        | 3                           |
| CSDO 5311                          | Graduate Clinical Practicum                              | 3                           |
| CSDO 5312                          | Contemporary Issues                                      | 3                           |
| CSDO 5314                          | Aural Rehab and Habilitation                             | 3                           |
| CSDO 5316                          | Dysphagia                                                | 3                           |
| CSDO 5317                          | Advanced Clinical Practicum                              | 3                           |
| CSDO 5318                          | Advanced Speech Sound Disorder                           | 3                           |
| CSDO 5319                          | Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) Systems | 3                           |
| CSDO 5320                          | Child Language Disorders                                 | 3                           |
| CSDO 5322                          | Neuroscience in Comm Disorders                           | 3                           |
| CSDO 5326                          | Advanced Clinical Methods                                | 3                           |
| CSDO 5328                          | Beginning Practicum Externship                           | 1-3                         |
| CSDO 5329                          | Advanced Practicum Externship                            | 3                           |
| CSDO 5330                          | Bil & Bicultural Issues in CSDO                          | 3                           |
| Total Semester Credit Hours |                                                          | 55-57                |