WGST 4370 Nature & Women American Novel 3 SCH (3-0)

Nature and women have been problematic for American society and, thus, American literature. Nature has been seen both as an early Hell populated by Indian "devils" and as a second Garden of Eden. Similarly, as a group, women have been regarded both as latter-day Eves and as "angels in the house." This course will address these two topics and show the development of the themes concerning them. Students will understand something of the role of nature and of women (as a class) in shaping and reflecting American thought and values. Credit may not be both ENGL 4370, when taught from a women's studies perspective and WGST 4370.

WGST 4372 Feminist and Gender Theory 3 SCH (3-0)

Critical analysis of feminist and gender theories and the methods scholars use to make their arguments. Focus on key issues such as the public/private divide, the sex/gender debate, feminist political economy, queer theory, multicultural and global perspectives.

WGST 4374 Special Topics in WGST 3 SCH (3-0)

A topic for intensive investigation will be selected for each offering of the course. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: WGST 1301. Credit may not be obtained in both WGST 4374 and the course it is cross-listed with.

WGST 4380 Topics in World Literature 3 SCH (3-0)

Selected topics in world literature written in English or in English translation. A topic for intensive investigation will be selected for each offering of the course. May be repeated with different topics, but no more than 6 SCH may count toward major or minor requirements. Prerequisite: 6 semester hours of sophomore English. Credit may not be obtained in both ENGL 4380, when topic is taught from a women's studies perspective, and WGST 4380.
